

Predicting the Future of a Fickle Marketplace: Top Ten Mega Trends You Can't Ignore

Saturday, Jan. 26th 10:15am

About the Session:

Join a romp through the top trends affecting consumer choices and what they bode for Colorado farmers, ranchers and food manufacturers. Sylvia Tawse, Founder of Fresh Ideas Group will distill marketing advice that will help make these trends work for, not against you. Kenny Meyers, “local forager” for Whole Foods Markets reveals the latest about what markets are looking for and why.

About the Speaker:

Fresh Ideas Group founder Sylvia R. Tawse has conducted national campaigns for dozens of brands. Her “healthier-living-for-all” commitment is evident in her nonprofit work, from Chef Ann Cooper’s LunchBox.org and Salad Bar Project, to years of work for the Boulder County Farmers Market. Sylvia was an instrumental force in the “Keep Organic Organic” public awareness campaign for the Organic Trade Association, which resulted in the highest number of letters received by the USDA, all 280,000+ of them. Sylvia has firsthand knowledge of the food industry, from the ground up. She and her husband own Pastures of Plenty Farm, a 32-acre organic farm in Longmont, Colorado.

sylvia@freshideasgroup.com